STATUS SYMBOL

Want cutting-edge bathrooms without the designer price tag? This is the aim of Crosswater's new Status range. With its clean lines, solid construction and precise detailing, the Status range is a show-stopper of a brassware collection - guaranteed to attract plenty of attention in the showroom and an excellent choice for the professional developer.

Crosswater's passion for excellence can clearly be seen in the Status range. With its unconventional, easy-to-use lever-handle and slender body, the range exudes quality. Finished in sleek, shiny chrome its flat, angular profile is softened by gentle curves, providing a fresh new take on the current demand for angles in the bathroom.

Air Uno is famous for extractors which combine real design flair with high performance extraction. The Murano Vetro, Air Uno's top-of-the-range model, has four extraction speeds with soft touch control, automatic switch off and a filter cleaning warning. With an aluminium tangential motor, it has perfect suction and a high level of noiselessness even at the maximum speed of 770 m3/h. Other features include a circular active charcoal filter and washable anodized aluminium grease filters. The sleek 90cm wide black glass panel is perfect for the contemporary kitchen and its dramatic lines are complemented by diachronic spot downlights.
